Gift Clock Installed At Town Hall

A new clock, the gift of the Misses Ida and Cairn Robbins, has been installed in the hearing room of the Robbins Memorial Town Hall. It was built by the E. Howard Clock Co. of Boston, and is painted gray to match the paneled walls of the room in which it hangs. There is a bronze eagle on each side of the large face, and a bronze wreath around it.

The Misses Robbins visited the Town Building when they were here last fall after a ten years' absence, and were so well pleased with the way it had been taken care of during the ten years, that they informed John Easton, Clerk of the Board of Selectmen, that they wanted to make some gift for it. It was not until recently that Mr. Easton, on behalf of their intention to have a clock manufactured for the hearing room.

HIGH SCHOOL DRAMATIC CLUB TO PRESENT PLAY "JANICE MERIDITH"

"Janice Meredith," written by Edward E. Rose and Paul Leicester Ford, will be the 1932 public production of the Dramatic Club at the Arlington High School, and will be presented in the Robbins Memorial Hall, Friday evening, April 15th.

This play is the outstanding dramatic event of the year, and under the direction of Mrs. Helen F. Mathews and Miss Claire Johnston, promises to be a great success. Some unusual scenic effects have been produced by James Colgan and Ralph Lennon. Another matter worthy of mention is the exceptionally clever posters, drawn by Edmond La Fond and Salvatore Bertolami, which have been distributed in the schools and stores.

"Janice Meredith" is especially appropriate for this Bicentennial year, as the setting is in the revolutionary war time. The charm of Colonial costume, the thrill of exciting scenes, the fun of comedy characters and clever lines, and the unusually large cast which is displaying remarkable dramatic ability, all promise an evening of exceptional enjoyment.

EL CARS KILL MAN AND MAIL TRUCK INJURES WOMAN

Girl Scouts Plan Many Events Soon

The members of the Lafayette Club made up of young women of this town and Lexington presented the play, "Broken Dishes," before a very appreciative audience in Old Belfry Club Hall, Lexington.

The affair was run in connection with the charities of the club and was well patronized. The male characters in the cast were all taken by young women, and they merited much praise for their work.

Mrs. William Shanahan, a member of the club, acted as coach for the play. The committee in charge was made up of Miss Mildred Hargrove, chairman; Miss Mary E. Manley, Miss Mildred Harkins, Miss Elizabeth Collins and Miss Katherine Hennessey.

The cast included Miss Margaret Callahan, Miss Dorothy Callahan, Miss Eleanor Maguire, Miss Mary Fitzgerald, Miss Eleanor Lowe, Miss Virginia Welsh, Miss Helen Kelley, Miss Louise Sullivan, Miss Mary Collins and Miss Mary Kelly.

After the play there was general dancing until a late hour.

E. E. Clive In "The Ringer"

To prepare himself for his forthcoming repertory and stellar engagement at the Morosco Theatre in New York City, E. E. Clive has decided to present at the Wilbur Theatre for the concluding two weeks of his three weeks' run which will begin Monday night, April 4th, Edgar Wallace's famous detective-mystery play, "The Ringer," which had a run of no less than nineteen months at the Wyndham Theatre in London. It is generally considered the greatest of the Wallace "thrillers." His literary and dramatic machinations still linger most popularly in novels, short story magazines, on the radio, and on the stage.

With few exceptions and some additions Mr. Clive will use his present company which has been appearing in "Shanghai Marriage" at the Wilbur. His production here, scenically, will be a new one, in anticipation of the New York run which will start immediately after the termination of his Boston engagement at the Wilbur on Sunday night, April 10th.

As the story goes, "The Ringer" is a much dreaded criminal-killer who has never missed his prey. He has won his name by his ability to "ring changes on himself," for he has worn many disguises and has never been recognized. All peace-loving people hoped he had met his death in Australia where he had last been heard from, but a rumor spreads in Scotland Yard that he has returned to England to pursue another victim. This is Maurice Meister, a jockey lawyer who connives with criminals and then betrays them. When he hears of the Ringer's return he knows revenge is at hand and he barricades his house, calls on the police to help him, and devises a startling lighting system to warn him of approaching danger. Then the plot grows hot and weird, and very absorbing and creepy. One never knows until the end who the Ringer is, though he has been on the stage all the time.

The Win One Class of the First Baptist Church is sponsoring a program of unusual interest, which is to be presented on the evening of Wednesday, the thirteenth of April at 7:45 p. m. in the chapel adjoining the church. The speaker is to be the Rev. Grady Peagan, whose subject pertains to George Washington. Special music has been arranged for the occasion. All who are interested are invited to attend.

Two Accidents On Massachusetts Avenue Within Short Time of Each Other Keep Police Ambulance On the Jump In East Arlington — Man Killed and Woman Hurt—Both Old Residents

Two serious accidents one which proved fatal and the other may also result fatally sent a spirit of gloom through the East Arlington section yesterday afternoon, and considerably spoiled the record of safety which the highways of this town have enjoyed for the past several months.

Andrew Gounaries, sixty-six years of age, a candy merchant, who resided at 47 Varnum St. was fatally injured when he became caught between two street cars on Massachusetts Avenue near Trowbridge Street.

According to the story told the police by eye witnesses there were two street cars stopped for passengers when the victim started to cross the sidewalk to board the outbound car just as both cars started. Mr. Gounaries became wedged between both cars and was rolled a distance of about twenty feet. He was extricated from between the cars and rushed to the Symmes Arlington Hospital where he died shortly afterwards. After examination by Medical Examiner Dow the cause of death was given as multiple fractures and contusions.

The operators of the street cars were Charles D. MacGillivray, of 53 Charles Street, East Lexington and Nelson J. King, of 53 Dudley street this town.

Immediately following the accident Chief of Police Archibald F. Bullock assigned Sergeant Albert E. Ryan to conduct an examination in an endeavor to ascertain if there was any criminal liability upon the part of either motorman.

As a result of his investigation he will to-day in the Third District Court apply for a warrant charging manslaughter against Motorman Nelson J. King. This however will only be a technical matter. In addition to the police investigation, officials of the Elevated were quickly on the scene for the purpose of checking up on the report of the two motormen.

Mrs. Edith Moores, sixty years old, of 34 Grafton Street, is on the dangerous list at the Symmes Arlington Hospital where she was rushed by Patrolmen Thomas R. Pigott and John Roche in the police ambulance after she had been struck and knocked down by a United States Mail truck in front of the East Arlington Post-Office on Massachusetts Avenue at Orvis Road.

According to the police report the injured woman was struck by the truck as it was backing up to the sidewalk to leave mail at the post office. Unknown to the operator, Warren Trimble, of 393 Salem St., Medford the woman passed behind the truck but was unable to get out of its way before being struck. She was thrown to the ground but the wheels did not pass over her. After an examination at the hospital it was announced that the victim was suffering from internal injuries and that her recovery was doubtful. At a late hour last evening she was still on the dangerous list.

A police investigation was conducted by Sergeant Thomas F. Meagher, Jr., who will in the event of the death of the woman apply at the Third District Court in East Cambridge for a warrant charging manslaughter against the operator.

Women Prefer Homes To Food

At the request of President Hoover's Organization for Unemployment Relief a study of homeless women in seventeen cities throughout the country has been made by research workers on the National Board staff of the Y. W. C. A.

It was found that women are generally inclined towards spending money for rent rather than for food.

The demand for comfortable lodgings has contributed to the establishment and growth of clubs for women in all large cities throughout the country. Such club homes combine membership of one million women.

The American Woman's Association Clubhouse in New York City has 1250 rooms to accommodate its membership of approximately 4000 business and professional women as well as many non-members transient guests.

The A. W. A. has 400 Junior members ranging in ages from 18 to 30. These young women are divided into two groups. Students Juniors, girls now in college or technical school, preparing within two years to enter a business or profession, and Junior members who are establishing themselves in work of some kind.

Junior members are for the most part engaged in teaching, secretarial work, merchandising, dietetics, and quite a number are laboratory experts. As students, they are mostly engaged in art, music and dramatics.

They come from all over the country but the greater number claim New York and sections of the South as their homes.

Moro Princess Beards British Lion

Former Co-Ed at American University, Virtual Ruler of Sultanate of Sulu, Demands Britain Relinquish Islands in Philippine Archipelago.

PRINCESS TARHATA KIRAM.

Princess Tarhata Kiram, former co-ed at the University of Illinois, member of a national sorority and leader of class activities, has once more crashed the limelight with the revelation that she has sent a demand that the British Government relinquish certain islands in the Philippine Archipelago. The Princess, who is a niece and the adopted daughter of the Sultan of Sulu, has ruled as a virtual queen in Sulu since the old Sultan was appointed to represent his Moslem subjects in the Philippine Legislature by former Governor General Dwight F. Davis, last year. When Tarhata returned from the United States to Sulu in 1926 she entered the harem of Datu Tahir, Moro chief, as his fifth wife. In 1927 she joined her husband in a revolt against the Philippine Government. He was captured and sentenced to ten years in prison. It is not expected that her present demand to the British Government will be given serious consideration. Though the number and location of the islands involved has been kept secret, it is intimated that they are fairly large and economically important. However, owing to the unsettled condition of the Far East it is very unlikely that Britain would consider surrendering any scrap of land that might have strategic importance. Map above shows the position of the archipelago in relation to Australia. Circle shows probable location of involved islands.

Advice For All Puzzled Voters

The Medford League of Women Voters calls attention to the fact that the final day for registration of voters prior to the Presidential Primary will be Wednesday, April 6.

Having had many inquiries from puzzled voters, Mrs. Roland M. Baker, president of the Massachusetts League, makes the following statement: "If already registered as a voter in Massachusetts, it is not necessary to register again unless one's residence has been changed to another city or town within the Commonwealth. A registered voter is eligible to vote in all elections, both primary and final. It is not legally required to tell what political party a citizen belongs to when registering. All that is required is proof of citizenship, age and residence."

"Party enrollment, often mis-called registration, is established the first time a voter votes in a primary election. Then he states his party in order to receive the ballot he wishes to use and is enrolled on the check list as a Republican or a Democrat, according to his statement. This enrollment stands as a record of party affiliation until the voter voluntarily and formally goes before a member of the Registrars of Voters and in writing asks to have his enrollment cancelled or changed. Enrollment can not be changed during the thirty days before an election."

Mrs. Baker calls attention to a League publication, "Facts about the Presidential Primary" which has just been issued and is available at League Headquarters, 31 Mt. Vernon Street, Boston. This is a descriptive leaflet designed to tell the puzzled voter what part the presidential primary plays in the choice of the next president of the United States.

Adding Zest to Daily Menus;
New Ideas to Aid Housewife

By JOSEPHINE GIBSON
Director, Heins Food Institute

EVERYWHERE busy women are on the lookout for dishes that are flavorful, substantial and practical to help them in the task of planning nutritious and varied meals. At times the housewife may feel that her supply of ideas is exhausted, and the planning of menus becomes a problem, even though she has much more in the way of ready-to-serve foods and fresh fruits and vegetables throughout the year than any generation of women before her. But we can find much in recipes that will be different and unusual. These suggested below are excellent, savory, main dishes that will form the "backbone" of economical dinners about which your family will enthuse.

Shepherd's Pie — New England Style: 2 cups mashed potatoes, 1 medium can Oven Baked Red Kidney Beans, 1 tablespoon minced onion, if desired; 1 tablespoon Prepared Mustard, 1/2 cup grated American cheese, paprika. Line a buttered casserole with well seasoned mashed potatoes, saving out enough for top. Place in prepared casserole, kidney beans combined with onion, if desired. Spread beans with mustard. Cover with remaining mashed potatoes. Sprinkle top with grated cheese and paprika. Bake in a moderate oven (375°F.) for 15 minutes or until brown. Serve hot. Serves 6.

American Chow Mein: 2 tablespoons butter, 1 cup onions, coarsely chopped; 1 1/2 cups celery, coarsely chopped; 1/2 cup water, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 medium can Oven Baked Red Kidney Beans, 1 tablespoon flour, 2 tablespoons molasses, 2 cans chow mein noodles. Melt butter in large saucepan, add onions and cook until lightly browned. Add celery, water and salt and simmer gently 10 minutes. Add kidney beans and simmer 5 minutes longer. Blend together flour and molasses and add to bean mixture, stirring until mixture thickens. Pour over crisp noodles on a large platter. Serve hot. Serves 6.

Braised Veal and Vegetable Dinner: 1 1/2 lbs. veal steak, 1 inch thick; flour, salt and pepper, 2 cups water, 4 medium sized potatoes, 4 medium sized onions, sliced; 4 carrots, 2 stalks celery, 1/4 cup Chili Sauce, 1 teaspoon Prepared Mustard, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire Sauce. Flour veal on both sides and saute in butter in iron skillet to a golden brown. Season with salt and pepper. Add water and cook, covered, for 15 minutes. Add vegetables cut in quarters, cover and bake in moderate oven for about 45 minutes, or until they are tender. Add sauce made of chili sauce, mustard, Worcestershire Sauce and 1/2 cup water. Uncover and cook just enough to heat sauce and to brown vegetables very slightly.

Tally-Ho! Spring Is Here

By EMMA LOU FETTA

NEW YORK—In the spring the smart woman's fancy turns, of course, to footwear. Right after Easter the change from winter shoes to those with a definite spring flavor is emphasized by the shops. This year the influence of eyelets; perforated footwear, and the tremendous vogue for fabric shoes is making itself apparent very early. The most important shoe makers—those who really design the fashionable American shoes—agree that this is going to be a "big fabric year". The outstanding fabric is a strong, ribbed dune weaves much resembling that excellent cloth we saw years ago in very superior English riding habits. Its official name is Tally-Ho which also smacks of Merry England but as a matter of fact it's thorough-going American material.

This cloth makes shoes which can be brushed fearlessly, which will meet cheerfully all the usual cleansing agents without spotting, and which will wear and wear. In the past fabric shoes have not been distinguished for their wearing qualities, as every woman knows, so it's consoling news that these dune fabrics both strong and decorative have now been developed. Pumps, Continental heel oxfords, sandals—any type of shoe you want will be available in ribbed, eyelet, fancy and plain dune weaves. The watch-word of these is that they are really cool for hot weather.

New Dishes From Old

Tasty Ingredients Give Left-Over Foods New Flavor

TRANSFORMING left-over foods into delicious family treats is a culinary accomplishment of considerable merit, but this desirable knack of utilizing the remnants of previous meals may be acquired easily by any housewife.

The secret, as good hotel chefs know, is attaining tasty combinations of the left-over foods with condiments and other appetizing ingredients, which supply the needed zestfulness and make the dish taste new and lively instead of second-hand and flat.

Savory Meat Loaf
2 pounds ground beef; 1 can tomato soup; 2 cups cracker crumbs; 1 teaspoon salt; 1/4 teaspoon pepper; 1/2 teaspoon poultry dressing; 1 tablespoon minced onion; 1 cup sweet pickles, thinly sliced.
Combine meat, soup, cracker crumbs, and seasonings. Mix thoroughly. Fold in pickles. Press into a greased loaf tin and bake in moderate oven (325 d.) for one hour or until done. This loaf is excellent hot or cold, and will keep several days in a refrigerator. Makes an excellent filling for sandwiches.

Another popular dish made of left-over beef is

Everyday Chop Suey
1 pound ground beef; 2 onions; 2 green peppers; 1 cup water; 3 tablespoons butter; 1 teaspoon salt; 1/4 teaspoon pepper; 1 medium egg cooked spaghetti.
In a skillet with the butter, fry the chopped onions and green pepper until slightly brown. Add the ground meat and fry until the meat browns. Add water, season with salt and pepper, and simmer for 10 minutes. Add the spaghetti, allow to boil, and serve.

Corned Beef Hash Puffs
2 eggs; 2 cups corned beef hash; 1/2 cup catsup; 1/4 cup water; 2 tablespoons chopped dill pickles; parsley.
Add well beaten egg yolks to hash and mix thoroughly. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites and drop hash mixture by spoonfuls onto buttered baking sheet. Place under broiler and brown. Combine catsup, water and chopped pickles, and heat to make a sauce. Garnish with parsley and serve immediately with the hot sauce.

Sweet Touch Improves Carrots

By Jane Rogers

CARROTS can be made more succulent if an effort is made to restore their garden flavor. After washing, scrape, cut in inch lengths and place in enamel kettle. Add just enough water to barely cover; wrinkle two teaspoonsful of sugar over them to restore the sweetness lost since they left the garden. Add half a teaspoonful of butter and enough salt to season. Cook until tender. They are especially good with roasts or as part of a vegetable luncheon.

MATERIALISM

Everybody is saying, philosophically, harsh things about materialism.

Just what is materialism, you ask? Well, it would be hard to explain straight off, because the word is all mixed up with Democritus, the late President Wilson, the "wealth of nations," prohibition, service clubs and modern physics. But quite roughly, "materialism" is something the "high minded" find it convenient and profound to dislike publicly; also, roughly, it is something which most anyone anywhere finds convenient and profound to dislike publicly.

Here we are, all soundly convinced that "materialism" sums up an exceedingly low way of looking at life. We are constantly fearful lest we are materialistic or becoming so. Take hope. Americans may have their tile bathrooms, but at heart they are the most restlessly spiritual people on earth. Anything with a touch of "idealism" or a flavor of the high, noble things, goes straight to their heads.

Really, there ought to be a little more said in favor of materialism. On investigation it might prove to be not so dreadful. And it isn't fair to build up a fine world of banks, homes, automobiles, radios, sports and sanitation and then go about condemning the "material."

But what's the use? "Materialism" has all the "forces for good" against it. It has had to stand a lot of abuse and plain speaking. But it will stagger on. It was made for punishment. In a democracy it is one of those rare things at which anyone can take a kick while holding it close to his heart.

LIFE INSURANCE MAKES FOR STABILITY

During 1931 life insurance companies of the United States paid to policyholders and beneficiaries the sum of $2,600,000,000.

What this meant to the country at large staggers the imagination. It meant that in a year of depression millions of dollars upon millions of dollars went into circulation, which started businesses, financed factories, supplied capital to hundreds of thousands of our citizens.

President Hoover has said that "the sixty-eight million policyholders of the country with policies aggregating one hundred-nine billion dollars, represent a major stratum in the very bed-rock of our economic life. Insurance not only protects the home and family and their social and spiritual values, but helps to meet current and future needs of expanding industry, commerce and education. I am informed that more than half, or fifty-four per cent of the people of the United States, own life insurance. The individual initiative, foresight and systematic saving which this represents makes for stability in the entire social order."

Owners of insurance policies will echo that—and particularly those owners who have watched other types of investment wither, while their insurance investment deviated not one cent in value, and is as sound today as on the day it was bought. Life insurance is one of the half-dozen great businesses which, in the best sense of the term, work in the public service.

EDITORIAL POINTS

Some boys are small for their ages and so are some men.

The average man thinks the only thing that could live on his salary is a germ.

One half the world doesn't know how the other half live beyond their income.

Even a depression has its advantages. Editorial writers and columnists can copy pages out of the early history of panics and leave it to their readers to think they are writing about 1932.

Daddy Sunshine
Club Rules

1. Be kind and helpful to others.
2. Look both ways when crossing streets.
3. Always be kind to dumb animals.
4. Write a letter to Daddy Sunshine, or have Mother or Dad write it for you, every now and then.
5. Try to bring a "Ray of Sunshine" into the lives of your parents and others every day of the week and every week of the year.

These rules are not very difficult for good girls and boys to keep. Most of them are kept by them anyway. Mail your letters and stories to Daddy Sunshine, in care of this paper. He will answer them in the Daddy Sunshine Column.

Write on but one side of the paper, and place your name and address on the letter after your name. Give the day, month and year of your birth.

To join the club all you have to do is promise to keep the rules—and keep them.

ANOTHER FROM EVERETT

"Mal" has received another letter from Everett. Like the last one it is breezy and interesting, so Daddy Sunshine is passing it along to his readers. For the benefit of the writer Daddy Sunshine states that he isn't so stout that when he sits down he hasn't any lap. Nothing like that at all. About him being tall and handsome—well, he isn't tall, nor is he short, and he would like to leave it to a judge and jury members as to how handsome he is. He certainly is not ferocious looking nor would he take a prize as a beauty. But all in all he is not such a bad sort. The letter follows:

Dear Mal:
We, the ten members of the Sewing club, listen to your programs from beginning to end. They are simply marvelous. How we missed your sweet, mellow voice last Monday night, but I suppose you enjoyed yourself with the Fashion show, leaving Baby Lenore worrying and "Making Faces at the Man in the Moon." Just the same, Daddy Sunshine sure spread Sunshine with his voice alone, but you must try hard not to let his beat yours.

We were disappointed not to hear Angelina Grilli sing in her various languages. How high she can sing without getting flat! Put her on your programs for it shows us how songs sound in different languages. "Ramona" seemed so funny in Greek, but it sounded good. Could you please ask her to sing "Our Cuban Love Song" in Spanish, if she knows it?

Baby Lenore is wonderful in her skits with you. She gave us the impression that Daddy Sunshine is as fat as a rubber ball and has no lap. I hope this isn't true for we pictured him as a tall, stout, good-looking gentleman. Baby Louise sounds wonderful. Carolyn Downing sang real cute. The piano and guitar blends beautifully. Don't forget to insert a chazy song, sung by you, on your program.

I hope you do not think us mean to want Angelina on your programs, but she's so different and we simply enjoy it. Tell the announcers to make their announcements "Short and Sweet." Well, Mal, as long as you and Daddy are on the air, my radio and those of the club members will be open. I got to say this: I think Charlie De Mone is a swell piano player. Good luck for your future programs. Marion and members of the club. P. S. You'll be wondering how I got your address. Well, Baby Lenore said your last name was MacDonald and I got the rest from the telephone book.

A Three Year Old

Dear Daddy Sunshine:
I have just heard about your club and would like to join. I am three years old and just arrived from Indianapolis, Ind., a few weeks ago. My name is Maurice Dean Bridges, and my mother said she would teach me all your rules, and I'll do my best to keep them.

Yours truly,
Maurice Dean Bridges,
37 South Street,
Medford, Mass.

Welcome Maurice. Daddy Sunshine is sure happy to hear from you and right glad to add you into his club. Are you going to be in Medford long? If not don't forget to leave your Indiana number. Keep in touch with the club, your "secretary" will no doubt help you in this.

A Faithful Member
Dear Daddy Sunshine:
This is my fortieth letter to you as a member of the club. I have saved many of my letters and enjoy reading them over. It is three years since I joined, so you see I joined soon after the club started, and what a nice time I have had. I speak of the club because I think it is a wonderful thing for it gives the members a chance to make use of their talent in the theatre, over the radio and in entertaining in many ways, which brings sunshine to thousands.

If I am not mistaken there is not another club of its kind in the whole country. All members, regardless of race, creed, or color are all welcome and treated with the same fairness and you, Daddy Sunshine and "Mal" have shown a great interest in all of the members. Now, Mr. McGonagle gives 30 members a chance to make a visit to one of the large ships of the Merchant and Miners Co. This surely would be interesting and educational and I hope I will be one of the lucky members to go. That trip will give the members a chance to write and tell those who do not go, all about the boat. That had ought to make a very interesting story.

In a short time now, the members will be able to write stories about our little friends, the birds, for spring is here and they are the first reminders of all things beautiful. I love the birds, flowers and all things from nature. I love to pick wild flowers, but there are not many around my home. We have cultivated flowers and they are also pretty.

Well it is getting near my bedtime, so I will say "So Long," but will see you in a few days with another lot of tinfoil.

Wishing you lots of luck and hoping I can go to Boston with 29 other members.

An old member,
Verna E. Lake
332 Fulton Street,
Medford, Mass.

You certainly are welcome to take the trip Verna. Your letter, like all of your letters, is most interesting, and not only Daddy Sunshine, but the members as well enjoy reading them. Daddy Sunshine knows you have been, and are, one of the most faithful and active members, and hopes you always will be. Will be watching for you and the tinfoil. As soon as the exact date is set for the visit to the ship, Daddy Sunshine will let you know through the column.

DORIS WRITES

Dear Daddy Sunshine:
I have not written to you for quite a while, and I hope you will excuse me. I have been very busy. I belong to quite a few clubs, besides school work, and that keeps me busy. I am sending in two puzzles, one is of girls' names, and the other is boys' names.

ROGER O'CONNOR

Roger O'Connor, husband of the late Mrs. Julia O'Connor (nee Sweeney), and a resident of Winchester for the past forty years, died Thursday morning at the Choate Memorial Hospital, in Woburn. He underwent a serious operation at the local hospital on Tuesday, from which he failed to survive, passing away this morning at 5:30 p. m. He was born in Ireland, but came to this country when a young man, and had been a resident of Winchester for the past forty years, where he had a large circle of friends and acquaintances.

He is survived by two sons, John J. and William F. of Winchester, a grandson, James R. Casey, and one sister, Mrs. Mary O'Connor of Roslindale. The funeral was held from his late home, 76 Sheridan circle, Winchester, this morning at 8:15, and a Solemn High Mass of Requiem was celebrated at the Immaculate Conception Church, in Winchester, at nine o'clock. Interment was at Calvary cemetery, East Woburn, following the church services.

TOMORROW

Have you ever stopped to think that today is not so bad? It's the dread of dark tomorrow that makes us glum and sad. We are, some how or other, We can run the present grade; It's tomorrow's vexing problem Of which we're sore afraid. And yet our past tomorrows— Were they worse than our to-days?

Was not the darkness riven By hope's beguiling rays? Might we then not curb our wor-ries By mindfulness always. That the God who makes tomor-rows Is the God of our to-days? —William J. McHale.

—George Grasso, 36 Pinkert street received a slight injury while playing near his home.

Girl Scouts

Girl Scout Council is hemming napkins at their meetings and are very desirous of obtaining orders for them. They may be ordered in different patterns and at different prices. These napkins, all hemmed by hand, may be purchased by the dozen or half dozen, with a table cloth or not, to match. An exhibition of patterns will be shown at the Woman's Club and it is hoped many orders will be taken for presents or general use.

Girls must bring applications for Camp back to Scout Headquarters for proper signatures.

Mrs. Curtis Waterman and Mrs. Greta Towne attended the meeting of Massachusetts Commissioners and Local Directors last Monday. Miss Hazel Osborne, Personal Director of the National Staff, conducted the meeting. "Essentials of Good Administration," was the topic of the day.

Mrs. Towne assisted Miss Potter March 29, at the Eastern Division Conference at Danvers. Mrs. Towne addressed the meeting, her topic being "Hiking, Overnight Camping and Summer Camps."

Girl Scout Orchestras

The Arlington Girl Scout orchestra is now a reality, in fact there are two orchestras. One, composed of older and more experienced Scouts will rehearse at the Old Town Hall each Thursday before Troop 6 meeting. Miss Woods of the Junior High Center is to assist. These girls are members of the senior orchestra at Verna Bond, piano; Bernadine Brooks, violin; Dorcas O'Neill, violin; Bernice Hayes, Virginia Brooks, Shirley Bond, cello; Eleanor Rowsell, trumpet; Elizabeth Low, Josephine Manly, Louise Lester, flute.

The Junior orchestra, by vote of the members, will rehearse on Mondays at 6:15 at headquarters, until another meeting place can be arranged. Virginia Brooks will direct this group and will be advised by Miss Pierce. Members of the orchestra are: Mona Gorham, piano; Virginia Hoffman, Katharine McArthur, Doris Ambrose, Louise Rhodes, Elsie Steeves, violins; Lucinda Bailey, cello; Mary Dodge, Clarinet; Charlotte Curtis, Pauline Joy, trumpets; Frances Griffin, drums.

Any girls wishing to join either group are asked to be present at the next meeting.

Troop II

Joan Blakeley, Elizabeth MacDonald and Hope Wells made a trip to the Fire Station last Wednesday with their teacher of the Junior Citizenship Course. They were shown the building and uses of all articles on the trucks explained.

Captain Shaw gave a talk to the Lexington captains and leaders this week on "Nature in Girl Scouting."

Troop IV

There were 22 candidates on the waiting list to join Troop 4. Tomorrow (Saturday) members of Troop 4 will take a hike to Betty Hughes. The girls will meet at 10 o'clock at Old Town Hall, and will bring pocket lunches.

Troop V

Sincere sympathy is extended from everyone to Captain Bond who lost her mother last week. Mrs. Cutter took charge of the last meeting. The Troop spent the greater part of the time in folk dancing and singing.

Troop VI

The girls are devoting a large part of their time to folk dancing. Miss Marjorie McCann, now at Middlebury College, Vermont, visited the girls at their last meeting.

Troop VIII

Girls are practicing on Folk dancing.

Troop IX

Constance McAllister, Eleanor Ewe, Dorothy Hamber and Martha Blethen joined Troop 9 at the last meeting. This troop is full at the present. Mary Leveroni is teaching folk dancing to this troop.

Troop X

Fourteen girls from the troop, with Captain MacKusick, Mrs. North, Mrs. Towne and Mrs. Andrews, went in to Dennison's last Saturday morning and made paper costumes for the May Rally. They completed the seven flower costumes.

The Scout's Own Committee will meet on Friday night at 6 o'clock at Scout Headquarters. At Cedar Hill, April 8, 9, and 10, Miss Sinnott will give a week-end training course for commissioners, lieutenants, and camp councilors, especially devoted to troop training, over-night and day hikes. The day has come when we all need it. Let us have at least one leader from every troop. Mrs. Towne is one of the leaders.

Mrs. Kenneth Lard, who is teaching Child Nurse, Home Nurse and First Aid to a large class at the Heights, has been having an unusually interesting exhibition of material correlative to her work during the past week at her home, 53 Wollaston Avenue. Mrs. Lard served behind the lines in the Great War both for England and the Red Cross in France, helping to establish dispensary stations. She has collected many posters from many sources, showing the value of health and good habits to all and these with her other material have been on display. At one of the lessons, Mrs. Ralph Hunt addressed the girls on "Ways to Amuse a Young Child."

—Joseph Bowles of 20 Hurlock street received a slight injury while playing near his home.

The following members of the Winchester Finance Committee will retire this year and the vacancies will be filled by the moderator: Harrison F. Lyman, who has been chairman; George W. Franklin, Henry J. Maquire, Frank E. Crawford and Ernest Keepers. There is also another vacancy on the committee this year, owing to the death of Alfred J. White.

Bonus Bill Author

Notwithstanding President Hoover's threat that he would veto any bill for the payment of veterans' bonus at this time, Representative Wright Patman (above) of Texas, sponsor of the bonus bill which provides for payment to the soldiers by having the Government issue more paper money, plans to go ahead with his drive for votes. Rep. Rankin of Mississippi said that advocates of the bonus bill expect to pass it over the President's veto.

Schedule is Adopted and Code of By-Laws are Re-Arranged at Lively Meeting of City League

New Board of Directors Introduced and Immediately Recommend Changes in By-Laws — Schedule Adopted — Independents Replace St. Joseph's Holy Name Society, Last Season's Champion — Next Meeting Scheduled For April 15th

The third meeting of the year of the Medford City baseball league was held in the Aldermanic chamber last evening, the session lasting almost three hours. Considerable business was transacted and several heated discussions ensued before the managers voted to accept the new code of by-laws which was drawn up.

All of the eight clubs were represented. The managers present were Emile DeBie of the Belgian American Union, Johnny McCullough of the Civic Club, Phil Sanford of the North Medford Club, Charlie Kerins and Lefty Mullins of the Vernon Cubs, Jim Bishop of the Tigers, George Callahan of St. James, Joe DeNafio of the Norton Club and Fleet Colclough of the Independents.

The Independents, a new club in the circuit, replaces St. Joseph's Holy Name Society, winner of the first half and the championship series last season. The team will comprise mostly players who helped win the title for St. Joseph's and will play all home games on Summer Street playground.

Secretary Bernard A. Cassidy was absent through illness but his report was read and accepted. President James W. Prior introduced the new board of directors to work in conjunction with the present officers. They are Charlie Donnellan, Clarence Twombly, Charlie Callahan and James "Jigger" Higgins. Each of the new directors gave a short address and wished the league continued success.

Before the meeting the new directors met in the office of the Park department and made several changes in the laws which they recommended to the managers. All registration of players must be made before games are played in both the first and second halves and there will be no names entered at any other time.

It was voted that any player, transferring from one club to another, may not compete in any game until one week from the time the Secretary has been officially notified of the change by both managers concerned. Any player will not be allowed to play after transferring until he has returned all equipment to the club he last played with. All players must take part in at least five games of the second half to be eligible to compete in the little world series for the league championship at the finish of the season.

The same umpires who officiated last season will again call them, according to the announcement of President Prior. One new umpire will be added as there are several more games on the schedule which the four regular umpires will not be able to handle.

The schedule, arranged by Joe Doherty, was presented and approved without correction. Each team will play 21 games in each half. There are many Sunday games booked with the North Medford Club and Civic Club playing all nine Sundays of the first half. The Independents will play eight of the nine.

The next meeting will be held on Friday evening, April 15th. At that time all clubs will be required to submit their player registration to Secretary Cassidy and post their bonds with Treasurer John J. Bray.

Bray Club Squad Starts Limbering-Up

Alderman Johnny Bray takes his football seriously, so much so that he has ordered spring practice sessions to begin on Monday evening at Morrison park. From then on through the month of April three sessions will be held weekly.

Last fall the team went through an undefeated season and laid claim to the Junior championship of Medford, defeating every local rival in that division. Over 40 boys took part, each being fully equipped, and all were presented scarlet jackets with the club insignia.

Over 75 candidates are expected to report Monday to the several coaches whom Johnny has lined up to whip the team into shape and explain the many new rules and changes in the great fall pastime. The coaches will be Jack Bolger and Coffee Wells who directed the team last season. They will be assisted by Charlie Vye, now head coach of all sports at Danvers High and Bill Wetmore of the famous pony backfield at Harvard two years ago.

Sunday Worst Day Of Week For Accidents

While not a cheerful thought to bring up on what ought to prove the first good motoring Sunday of the spring season, the Governor's committee on street and highway safety points out in its weekly review of highway safety that Sunday is the worst accident day of the week. The hour between 5 and 6 p. m. is the most dangerous of the day, and that the month just starting is the first of a period that annually sees an upswing in highway accidents as the summer travel peak approaches.

At the same time, the state's fatality record for the first quarter of the current fiscal year (December 1, 1931 to Feb. 29, 1932) already has shown a 17.6 per cent increase over the same period last year. While part of the jump is explained by a greater amount of travel which in turn leads to a greater amount of accident exposure, the increase of mileage rolled up by Massachusetts motorists this year is only 7.1 per cent above that of the first quarter last year.

While the chances for accident increased 7.1 per cent in the first three months of the year, the actual fatalities increased 17.6 per cent, leaving 10.5 per cent more fatal accidents on a mile for mile basis this year than there were last.

All of this year's increase in highway deaths has been due to a much greater number of nighttime accidents, according to figures compiled by the registry of motor vehicles, while daytime accidents have decreased. In bare figures, the number killed in December, January and February this year was 187, as compared to 159 in the same period a year ago, an increase of 28 deaths. At the same time, the number killed at night this year was 122, as compared to 96 last year, an increase of 26 nighttime fatalities, or 37.5 per cent, while daytime fatalities this year were only 55, as against 63 last year, a decrease of 8, or 12.7 per cent.

Despite the trend toward more nighttime accidents, particularly fatalities, the late afternoon still is the most dangerous period of day over an extended period, according to analysis of 6,762 accident cases involving both death and injuries last year made by the registry of motor vehicles.

Out of these 6,762-odd accidents, more than 1,000 or practically one sixth of the total occurred between 4 and 6 p. m., leaving these two hours by far the most dangerous of the 24, and the 5 to 6 o'clock hour were 564 accidents. Between 5 and 6 o'clock there were 564 accidents. Between 5 and 6 o'clock there were 564 accidents. Between 5 and 6 o'clock there were 564 accidents.

The weekends, with their naturally heavier travel, were the most dangerous periods of the week last year, with Sunday having the worst record, for the number of accidents, although more fatalities occurred on Saturday.

Out of the same 6,762 accidents studied, 1,195 occurred on Sunday, 1,127 on Saturday, and 1,044 on Friday. Fatalities, however, did not run in the same ratio. Saturday was the worst day with 138 deaths on that day during the year, Friday which was next to the lowest day of the week in the number of accidents with 902 had the second greatest number of fatalities with 108, while Sunday, the worst day for the total number of accidents, was fourth with only 102 compared to Saturday's 138, Friday's 108 and Monday's 104.

Furniture dealers insist: Shining floors, Modernistic davenoes, Treasured antiques, Precious rugs, Costly carved tables and Marble draped halls—make up the home: Common Sense tells us: Worn floors, Country couches, Happy memories, Baby-tied carpets, Nursery toys, and Echoing Halls of Laughter make up the genuine Home—and after all, isn't that what we all want, down deep in our hearts?

Dear Miss Joy:

I'm trying to decide a very important issue and I do hope you can help me out. I am going to be married and I have been running around trying to furnish my house. My fiancé, thinks it is silly to try and get everything modern because he says we ought to accumulate our furniture gradually and then it will have a close feeling for us. I think this is silly. Now will you tell me what you think I ought to put into my home?

Waiting for new draperies, smart furniture, and every bric a brae, ever introduced for a home furnishing, and have a pretty house, when all is done, but it won't necessarily be a pretty home. And then you can take the same house, furnish it with left-overs from the attic, shabby furniture and out of date pictures, but if you tuck in every corner and nook of the dwelling, happy memories, love and kindness, you'll have the most beautiful home in the universe and you can't help being very happy living within its walls.

Furniture doesn't make the home. Waiting for the associations and memories that build it to a desirable resting spot and it is the quality of the happiness you put into it that determines the value of the homestead as years roll by.

I agree with your fiancé. It is better to start housekeeping with a few pieces of furniture, of attractive design and within your means than it is to open to your friends for the first time, a home lavishly decorated with costly articles, far beyond your purse, and not in keeping with either one of your personalities.

A home is the only way husband and wife have of expressing their mutual love and happiness to the world and because of this, it is always very important that its furnishings tell the real story in their fashions. I don't mean to start out using soap boxes for chairs until you are ready to celebrate your silver anniversary but don't become unhappy because you can't have every room in the house shining with new furniture. Surely if you love your fiancé, you will be willing to please him in this matter and if he returns your love, he will endeavor to please you, and between the combination, you ought to get your home in readiness, any day now.

Dear Miss Joy:

I am a young girl sixteen years old. I go to High school, and am a Senior. I fell in love with a boy a year ago. Since then I have invited him to parties. He seems to like me but when it comes to parties he stays with other girls and I stay with other boys. I would like to know if I should stop thinking about him as it would hurt me terribly to throw him over.

Whenever I meet him on the street he always stares at me. Will you please tell me what to do?

Heartbroken. It's fortunate that you are learning the lesson at such a tender age, as, about the uncertainties of love affairs. Often times, they are one sided and the tragedy of this feature, is the fact that when you are experiencing the disillusionment of a love which you are confident is genuine, everything worth while seems to fade out of your life, even your sense of humor, a quality always precious in a make-up, when love is on the wane.

This chap too doubt likes you or he wouldn't be willing to accept your attentions, but I doubt very seriously if he is in love with you, or you in love with him.

Why not try different tactics and let him do the inviting for a change. After all, it is his privilege to do this, and perhaps he might enjoy exercising it, as most boys, of his age, do. He is not excused, however, for neglecting you since he agrees to accompany you to any party and I'm sure if I were in your dancing shoes, I'd feel quite hurt if he didn't pay at least a normal amount of attention to me, after I had gone to the trouble of extending him an invitation to the party as my escort.

Don't discard his friendship. Heartbroken, but try to consider him as just one of your boy friends, rather than "the boy friend," and show him, by your friendly indifference attitude, that you understand his position in the affair, and all will be agreeable between you. It's folly to pursue a boy, let him chase you if you want to really win him for keeps.

Will the wild, "seen-all. Knows-all, enjoyed-all" man make a better husband than the home shackled, work "day-in and day-out" lad who has spent all of his youth, trying to get ahead, far from the lights of the gay world, and safe. Or in other words, will the chap who has his fling at sowing his wild oats make out just as well as a husband as the one who has heeded the warnings of his home, church and society and been a "goodie-good" boy all of his young life.

Well, that's a question, not exactly new to discuss, and one that can hardly be answered definitely, one way or another, as conditions will alter each case, even though the French insist that the reformed rooster, makes the better husband, since he has had the opportunity to play about, sow his wild oats, and find out what it is all about, before he settles down to domesticity glowing heartside and believing mate.

Unquestionably there is a grain of truth in this contention, for we all will agree, if a man is to sow his wild oats, it is far better for him to do this little task before he marries than afterwards, but the trouble with the wild oat crop is that it so often bears a perennial harvest that keeps ripening year and year as long as he lives, that his wife and children are compelled to assist in reaping. Horrible ills, disease, death, imbecility, and malformations are just some of the obnoxious weeds that spring up along the harvest, and no woman cherishes the thought of gleaming any of these.

Things wouldn't be quite so bad with this marriage problem for "sports," if the man could "spice" the price of his wild parties himself, and when the game was over, clear off his slate and start out, backed with his knowledge and experiences, for better things but unfortunately this seldom can be done. He must pay the fiddler, for his enjoyment, and if he marries, his innocent wife and family must help him with the debt. Perhaps it might be a light one, but too often it is the tremendous price of happiness, love, health and even life, for all concerned.

To be sure, there is a great deal to be said in favor of these playboys as husbands for undoubtedly many of them would make ideal husbands, if Dame Nature would forgive and bless them with good health, since nothing kills our appetite so completely for forbidden fruit as to have our fill of it and be satiated with it. No man is so abstemious as the one who has had his stomach burned with synthetic gin. No man is so immune to the wiles of the modern Cleopatra, as the one who knows her every vice and art, and surely no man hovers so closely to his own heart side, as the one who has run around until the very sight and sound of a night club bores him to tears.

But there are two objections to marrying such a partner. One—the cold fact that he is every apt to be damaged goods and his wife doomed to a life of nursing a neurotic invalid, trying to repair the harm that bootleg whiskey has done to his digestion his liver and kidneys. And the other—his blarney on life in general.

He's very apt not to care about anything except his own selfishness and wants. The idea that his wife is young, innocent and curious to see life, matter little to him. He knows all about life, he knows all about the glamour of it so why bother trailing around the little woman, even if she is dying to wear her new frock out, to see something he has already seen to a point of boredom. His idea of a pleasant evening is to sit at home and read a book and it's a change from his old life and you can bet your bottom dollar he will see to it that his happy little wife sits with him, far from the dangers of the bright lights.

Of course, there is, on the other hand, the dangers of the "goodie good" man, as a husband. He might well plod along, from day to day in his work, before marriage, never even peeking over the fence to catch a glimpse of the twinkling lights and yet when he has become permanently located in his own home, start roaming around in his leisure time, and before you can say Jack Rabbit, he has skirted that fence, and gone wild. It's quite generally conceded that the men who run amuck when they are middle-aged and who forsake their faithful wives for girls young enough to be their daughters and let gold digging blondes make fools out of them, almost always are men who married very young when they were mere boys, and who never had time or money to amuse themselves until they were middle-aged.

Just looking into the lives of such men will show you that their youth was spent at the wheel of work while other boys, danced and played about having a good time until their wild oats had been sown and their balance assured on the rungs of Life's Ladder.

So, girls, when you start to choose a husband, pick out one who has never been too gay, nor, heaven forbid—too sober in his early life, if you really are to be happy.

And, then, when you are married to him, hold the reins in check accordingly. For high spirited horses, a fairly firm hold is essential on the reins, for lazy indifferent ones, maybe race horses in their early days, jog up the drive, with a tingling of the whip, every now and then, if you hope to win the race.

AWAKENED CONSCIENCE

Somerville Journal
My little child, whom sharp reproof
For some slight fault had filled
With sudden grief,
Who had in pain and anger sobbed,
And then in sweet repentance found relief,
The fierce storm passed, looked up at me,
While tears shone in misty eyes of blue.

With wistful gaze, and softly said:
"I wish I could be always good—
—like you!"
Be always good—like me! The child
In simple trust, brought shame into my soul,
For well I know how weak I am,
How sadly subject to malign influences,
And I resolved to do my best
To fight temptation, and be good and true.

Shamed by my little child who said:
"I wish I could be always good—
—like you!"
—William F. Mullans, 27 Fairwood circle, Cambridge, parked his auto in front of 276 Harvard street. When he started the car, he backed it out from the curb, and backed into Kenneth R. Glasgow, 27 Osborne road, Medford, who was walking between that car and another. Glasgow complained of leg injuries.

PLAN TODAY FOR A PROSPEROUS TOMORROW

A. W. Robertson, Chairman of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, says:

"The plans and economic forces now at work all tend toward early stabilization."

Here is an economic development that promises good times ahead. Big business is "settling down."

"Well, I De-Claire!"

"I'm utterly flabbergasted" was the vocal reaction of Claire Windsor, beautiful stage and screen star, to the news that a $100,000 suit had been filed against her in Oakland, Cal., by Mrs. Marion Y. Read, who charges the beauty with alienating the affections of her husband, Alfred C. Read, broker. Miss Windsor not only denies the charge, but contemplates a damage suit against her accuser for the same amount.

Leave To Withdraw Given Petition Of Harry D. Cook

The petition of Harry D. Cook, presented to the Board of Aldermen for permission under the provisions of section 19 and 20 of the zoning ordinance, to store ice in a one story wooden building on land of the Boston and Maine railroad on Gibson street, Medford (Glenwood district) met with decided opposition from residents of that street. A petition signed by 23 persons, several of whom appeared in person to register their opposition. The residents felt that with the New England steel company and the Friend lumber company, there was enough heavy trucking on the street. The petitioner was given leave to withdraw.

BIG Fire Sale

$30,000 FIRE DAMAGE TO CLIFFORD BLACK CO., STORE

Pres. R. C. Clifford, Jr., Estimates Loss To Building Between $6,000 and $7,000 and the Remainder on the $100,000 Worth of Stock—Two Alarms Sounded for Blaze Shortly Before Two A. M.

The Clifford-Black Co. furniture store suffered a fire loss estimated to run to approximately $30,000 when the fire broke out there early this morning. The damage to the building is placed at between $6,000 and $7,000 by President Robert C. Clifford Jr., while the remaining loss is on the stock the retail value of which is approximately $100,000. Most of the damage is from smoke and water. The loss is covered by insurance.

The fire was discovered shortly before two o'clock by Ernest Smith, driver for the Yellow Cab taxi company, who sounded the alarm from box 14. The smoke was pouring from the windows of the basement and had practically filled the store. A second alarm was sounded as a safety precaution but the firemen were successful in keeping most of the fire confined to the basement, and to the elevator well to the top floor. Some smoke got in to the women's apparel store next door and a little into the drug store at the corner of Exchange street.

It is evident that the fire started in the cellar near the elevator shaft but Chief J. T. Nicolls is not certain as to the actual cause. He is of the opinion that a short circuit to the oil pump may have been the cause. He is sure, however, that the blaze started near the heater and then mounted the elevator well, the runs of which are covered with grease.

The affair was the largest social of the year for the sorority. Unique programs in black and gold, the colors of the sorority, were distributed as souvenirs. The music was furnished by a popular orchestra. A large group of youthful merrymakers were chaperoned by Mrs. Lulu Coville and Mrs. Gertrude Freeman.

CIRCLE ONE HOLDS 11 Circle One of the Woman's League of the West Medford Congregational church held a desert bridge at the home of Mrs. Josiah Bartlett, 41 Kilgore avenue, Medford, on Friday afternoon. About 30 tables were filled.

Mrs. Edward Newton Brown is chairman of the Circle.

Favored for Kentucky Derby.

Here is C. V. Whitney's great filly, "Top Flight," ruling favorite to win the 1932 Kentucky Derby. The horse is quoted in the Winter books at 8-1. Should "Top Flight" win the Louisville classic she will be the first filly to achieve that honor since Regret flashed to victory in 1915. Jockey Workman, up in this photo, will probably pilot the horse in the great event.

First Down in Grand National

Here is one of the reasons why the English Grand National is called the most gruelling race in the world. Jockey W. Redmond is shown on the ground after his mount, "Gibus," had come a cropper at the first jump. Jockey Hamey, on "Forbra," No. 30, is looking back at his fallen opponent. But he didn't waste any time in sympathy. Keeping his lead, he piloted "Forbra," a rank 50-1 outsider, past the post to win the classic. Only nine of the thirty-six starters finished the race.

Challenge In Sermon Sunday At 1st Baptist

At the Sunday morning service in the First Baptist church, the sermon, "Filling the Gaps in Our Ranks," to be preached by Rev. C. Harry Atkinson, will bring the challenge of loyalty and devotion rather than hero worship. The two choirs will render special numbers. The children's choir has been particularly appreciated of late. Under the direction of H. M. Gale, it was steadily developed until the singing has become a feature of the morning worship.

At the evening service, which begins at seven o'clock, the Ordination of Baptism and the Lord's Supper will be observed. The soft and holy light from the illuminated cross make this service of particular beauty and reverence. The sermon will discuss the subject "A Sense of Duty." The evening choir will render the anthem and lead the special service of song, during which the old favorites will be sung.

The Young People's Forum which meets after the evening service has a very fine speaker and discussion leader in the person of Captain Nicolas Stankovitch. This young man now a student of International law at Harvard has spoken to large audiences all over the East. He comes dressed in the uniform of a Serbian Army officer and his fine appearance, his youth, and his face in face contact with conditions during the world war, give him an unusual appeal to young people. A cordial welcome is extended to the young people of Medford to enjoy this fine opportunity.

Announcement of Belluche-Wakeham Engagement

The engagement of Florence Elizabeth Wakeham, daughter of Robert Hephurn Wakeham, 270 Forest street, Medford, to Horatio Gardner Belluche of 89 Easton street, Allston has been announced. The wedding is scheduled for an early date in the fall.

MEDFORD THEATRE

Marie Dressler, the greatest woman star on the screen, will be seen at the Medford Theatre in the first four days of next week, in "Emma," an intimate story of family life. This picture presents Miss Dressler in her first straight character portrayal since "Min and Bill." However, the picture is not devoid of comedy moments and there are hilarious incidents in the family life in which moviegoers may enjoy the familiar Dressler humor.

"The Cuban Love Song," the companion picture of the bill presents Lawrence Tibbet and Lupino Velez in the leading roles. The combination of haunting romance, tropic adventure, comedy and music also includes Jimmy Durante and Ernest Torrence. It offers a trip to the land of romance under the Cuban skies, to laugh and love and thrill to the strains of the glorious "Cuban Love Song." The surprise picture of the year awaits you at the Medford Theatre for four days starting Sunday.
